REVERSE VERDICT

The Appellate Court Hands Down Decision in Powers-Howard Cases Today.

ONE DECISION UNANIMOUS

The Whole Court Agrees in the Howard Case, But Not so With Powers.

WHITE, PAYNTER AND HOBSON DISSENT

Frankfort, March 28.—The appellate court has brought in the long deferred and looked for decision in the Powers-Howard cases. The decision of the lower courts was reversed. In the Howard case the whole court concurred in the verdict but in the Powers case three judges, White, Painter and Hobson dissented. Howard and Powers were charged with complicity in the murder of Goebel and in the trial Powers was sentenced to life in the penitentiary and Howard was condemned to die.

The decision in the Powers case holds that Taylor's pardon was not valid and the indictment was good, but it reverses the verdict and orders a new trial on grounds of erroneous instructions to the jury and incompetent testimony. The Howard case is reversed on the grounds of erroneous instructions to the jury, incompetent testimony and several minor points. Judge Durrell delivered the opinion in the Powers' case and Judge Barnard read the opinion in the Howard case.

CITY NOTES

Matters at a Standstill in Municipal Circles Today—No City Court.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE

Moochers so Thick the Police Have to Disperse Them—The Saloons All Closed.

NOTHING SENSATIONAL TO DISTURB

There was no session of the police court today on account of the primary election. Several arrests, however, were made last night.

Newt, alias Dee Davis, was arrested in the Clarksville region, by Captain Henry Bailey and Officer Tom Potter last night on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses.

Mrs. Geo. Kendall alleges that the defendant went to her home in Rowlandtown last July and said he was called to the deathbed of his father eight miles away. He borrowed a mule from her, on which to make the trip and claims it has never been returned. After several fruitless attempts Davis was at last captured.

The prisoner says he took the mule for a debt, and that it died three weeks after he came into possession of it. His examining trial is set for tomorrow.

A quantity of brass was found in the possession of Jas. C. Lyon, white, last night by Officers Gray and Gourdeux.

A negro named McClelland from Earlington, who was with him was also arrested, but released. Lyon is held as a suspect.

The brass was identified by Special Agent Laffey as property of the Illinois Central. Lyon, who claims to be from Pittsburg, will be charged with petty larceny.

James Johnson was arrested last night by Captain Bailey and Lieut. Moore for a plain drunk.

John Hamilton, was arrested by Officers Hamilton and Priant for a breach of the peace.

The aggregation of "moochers" that thronged the street corners in the business portion of the city yesterday, and in fact for several days past, had to be dispersed by the police last evening. They were a disgrace to a community that boasts of police protection. Many of them were drunk and most of the others willing to be, and people in the pursuit of legitimate business could hardly get along the sidewalks for the obnoxious "bums."

Many of those who looked on the flowing bowl not wisely but too well last night were in desperate straits today, for the saloons were closed and they had a hard time finding anything to relieve that "tired feeling."

Every vehicle in the city was hired today by candidates and their friends. The use of vehicles on regular election is prohibited by law, but they may be used in primaries.

Deputy U. S. Marshal G. W. Saunders is an interested spectator at all police court sessions when he is in the city. There was never much police court where the major came from, Mayfield, and hence he finds Paducah's generally well stocked tribunal very entertaining.

THE WEATHER.

The forecast for tomorrow is for fair weather, stationary temperature.

PAUPERISM

The dread of the thrifty, the bane of any nation, is so easily prevented that there is small excuse for even the day laborer at small wages to ever reach the almshouse. For the well-to-do merchant or the man on a fair salary, it's a crime when life insurance is so cheap and the best companies offer so many good plans. Investment is a feature for the bachelor. See us about it.

FROM OLD KENTUCKY

A MURDERESS IN JAIL AT MEMPHIS, WAS BORN AND

Reared Here—Maggie McManus Shoots and Kills One of the Most Prominent Men in Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., March 28.—W. A. Hogin, at the head of Hogin & Co., brokers, died here last night from wounds received last night. He was shot the night before in the private apartments of Doris Noble by the latter, who claims he had been maintaining the flat for about three years.

Hogin started to the Lyceum theater with his wife and daughter. He left them at the door. Within ten minutes he was in the luxuriously furnished apartments of Miss Noble. They quarreled and the broker left the flat. He returned in five minutes and after a few words with the woman she shot him. The ball entered his right side. He became unconscious and remained in a half conscious condition all day and died last night.

The woman, who is in jail, makes the following statement:

"A short time before the shooting Mr. Hogin came to my room. I was asleep, and he awoke me and accused me of being drunk. We fussed awhile and he went away. He came back in the course of half an hour and renewed the quarrel. I was in my own room and Mr. Hogin was standing at the door. He had struck me and thrown me down, and I simply got my pistol to frighten him. When I took the pistol out of the washstand drawer he stepped through the door and closed it between us, but opened it immediately. I must have been crazy. I pointed the pistol at the door before him. In my excitement the pistol went off, and Mr. Hogin fell to one knee in the doorway. I realized then that the bullet had struck him, and throwing the pistol away, ran to him. He said something but I have forgotten the words. When I reached him he grappled with me and threw me to the floor. He tried to choke me. I got loose from him and ran down the stairs and across the street to telephone for a doctor. There was a 'phone in my room, but I was too excited to use it. I called to everyone to telephone for a doctor. I was scared to death, and expected him to die every minute. When I got back Mr. Hogin was on the bed. He had walked there and laid down. Then the officers came and I was arrested."

The woman's name is Maggie McManus, and she was born and reared in Paducah, coming here in 1896.

Her father was a Paducah Mason, and when he died the young daughter was sent to the Masonic Home near Louisville. She escaped and came to Memphis, and married J. T. Ward. Her married life was an unhappy one, and she was granted a divorce. She met Hogin three years ago. Her mother still lives in Paducah, but has refused to come to Memphis in response to a telegram notifying her of her daughter's deed. Doris Noble is well known in this city. She has lived here about five years. During the past year she has been in several cutting escapades. She was accused of cutting a woman named Golden, and also one named Jones. She is slender of stature and about 25 years old, and is not considered pretty.

TRUE TO HIS FATHER.
Owensboro, March 28.—In the forcible entry and detainee case of Mrs. Sallie Scherer against R. M. Payne, now in progress in this city, Charles Payne, son of R. M. Payne, went to jail rather than reveal his father's whereabouts.

Mr. Watts is one of the officers of the I. C. railroad and the conference was concerning connections to be made between the two roads.

One hundred and seventy-nine patients have been cared for at the railroad hospital since January 1. From January 1 to March 5, 114 were cared for, exactly the same number up to the same time last year.

It is reported that the Illinois Central scale office, now at the south end of the new yards, and about a mile from the city, will be moved under the dispatcher's office.

Robert Doby, an Illinois Central brakeman of Princeton, Ky., had a leg badly mashed at Princeton last night and was brought here to the railroad hospital. It is not thought amputation will be necessary.

Dispatcher J. B. Alvey is visiting us for a few days and is in Mayfield. Dispatcher Ferguson is holding a trick for him.

Mrs. Alonzo Williams, wife of the section foreman at Tiptonville, gave birth to a child that weighed 20 pounds. The child was dead. The mother is a small woman only weighing 100 pounds.

VERY LIVELY

Aguinaldo Seems to be Not at all Depressed By His Capture.

BROUGHT ASHORE AT NOON

After a Good Deal of Sprinting the Wily Philippine Is Run Down.

PRISONER IN M'ARTHUR'S QUARTERS

Manila, March 28.—Aguinaldo is at last in the toils. He was brought ashore at noon today and is now a prisoner in General MacArthur's quarters. He seems very cheerful and chatted gaily with those around him, but had nothing of interest to say. He has led the soldiers a merry chase and there is much relief that he is at last captured. Just what effect this will have on the revolution is not known at present.

General Funston deserves the credit for the capture. He mapped out the plan of procedure and selected a number of picked men and turned the great trick.

NOT TO BE PUNISHED.

Washington, March 28.—Aguinaldo won't be punished for his part in the Filipino war, but will be held as a prisoner of war. The officials are very jubilant over the capture and are predicting the early termination of the year. General Funston comes in for great praise and he will receive a reward befitting his grand deed. He will most probably get a generalship in the regular army.

FUNSTON'S TOWN CELEBRATES.

Toia, Kans., March 28.—The whole town has gone wild over the last deed of its hero, General Funston, and business is suspended while everybody celebrates the event.

DEATH ON LIVINGSTON POINT.

Andrew Butler, aged 28, a widower, died from pneumonia at his home on Livingston Point today. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning.

SUDDEN DEATH

Mr. W. P. Barnhill, the Stock Yard Man, Dies at Savannah, Tenn.

HE WAS THERE ON A VISIT

He Was Fifty-Four Years Old and One of Paducah's Most Worthy Citizens—Death From Pneumonia.

FUNERAL TO BE AT SAVANNAH

Mr. W. P. Barnhill, owner of the Barnhill Stock yards, died this morning at Savannah, Tenn., from pneumonia, after an illness of several days.

The sad news was a great shock to his friends here, many of whom did not know he was ill. Mr. Barnhill had been in ill health for the past six weeks, and about ten days ago, accompanied by his wife, went to his former home in Savannah with the hope of improving his health.

Malarial disorders developed into pneumonia, and he died about 7 o'clock this morning.

He was born in Hardin county, near Savannah, Tenn., in 1847, and spent the greater part of a useful life there. He came to Paducah six years ago, and established the stock yards at Thirteenth and Norton streets, and had since lived here. His son, Mr. W. P. Barnhill, Jr., was associated with him in business until his death last October in Texas.

Mr. Barnhill was a gentleman of refinement and affability, and had a wide circle of acquaintances here. He was universally liked, and was a citizen of means and enterprise, and had done much for Paducah since he took up his residence here.

The death of his son removed his only child. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Anna Barnhill, and several nephews, and a sister, Mrs. Baker, wife of Mr. Chas. Baker, of Baker, Eccles & Co., the wholesale grocers. The notice of his death was received by her this morning, and she will go to Savannah to attend the funeral.

The remains will be buried at Savannah, but no arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

THE RAILROAD.

THERE HAVE BEEN NO HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST TODAY.

The St. Louis and Memphis Trains Were Late—Brakeman May Lose a Leg.

Frank Fentress, Jr., has resigned the position of personal injury agent of the I. C. railroad from Memphis to Paducah, which he has held for the past three years, and has returned to the practice of law. His successor has not been named.

Col. J. C. Harris of Tiptonville, met J. T. Watts of Louisville, at Obion yesterday to perfect arrangements looking to the early completion of the Obion and Tiptonville railroad.
